

Annual service, Veterans parade To memorial plot

Members of the Newmarket Veterans' Association, Newmarket Legion and visitors from Niagara Falls and Toronto paraded to Newmarket cemetery on Sunday for the annual Decoration Day services. Following the pattern of the last two years, the services were held at the Veterans' plot.

Included in the parade were the Newmarket Citizens' Band which also provided the music for the services, the Newmarket Trumpet Band, the Canadian Corps color party, members of the Canadian Corps council, Hong Kong veterans, members from the Canadian Corps unit at Niagara Falls, veterans of the Women's Division, R.C.A.F., in the blue plaid skirts, and of the C.W.A.C. The Auxiliary of the Newmarket Legion branch was the third women's unit in the parade.

This is the third year that the Newmarket Veterans' Association has arranged the Decoration Day services at the request of the Newmarket cemetery board. Bert Ward, vice president of the Canadian Corps Ontario Command, was in charge of the arrangements. Mac McDonald was parade marshal.

The service was held in front of the memorial raised by the Newmarket Veterans' Association in front of the Veterans' plot. Chairman was Rev. Henry Cotton, padre of the Newmarket Veterans. Guest speaker, with a message of special emphasis for young people, was Capt. Aubrey Davis. Mayor Vale on behalf of the town and Herb Gladman on behalf of the cemetery board were other speakers.

The honor roll was read by Jack Wright. Last Post and Reveille were blown by bugler Len Burling.

The parade started at the market square at 2.30 and went up Main St. to the cemetery. The return was by the same route. After the parade, refreshments were served in the town hall.

City wants suburbs To 'fortify' own Position, York says

Tracy LeMay, Toronto planning commissioner, was the only witness heard at the hearing of Toronto's amalgamation application before the municipal board on Wednesday. It was the second day of the hearings. On Monday, York county and seven municipalities included in Toronto's amalgamation scheme presented their brief to the board.

York county and the suburbs opposed the amalgamation scheme in a 15-point brief which said Toronto wanted amalgamation "to fortify its position at the expense of more frugal neighbors." The brief contended that "there is no evidence that the city has shown any discretion in planning its affairs which justifies its demand to obliterate the suburban municipalities."

Should amalgamation be permitted, it is estimated that the rest of York county, including the municipalities of Newmarket and Aurora, would be faced with at the very least, a doubled county tax levy simply to maintain county administration. The cost of special county projects such as reforestation, conservation, etc., would be increased proportionately.

The county proposes as an alternative to amalgamation, a metropolitan area board to administer services like water and sewage disposal which extend across municipal boundaries.

Commissioner William Stringer suspended the two men, William Andrews and Harry Kift, pending the outcome of the hearing before Deputy Commissioner Arthur Moss.

P.C. Andrews said that Mrs. Godfrey had been on the prohibited liquor list for some time and that her charges were evidence of her anxiety "to pin something on us." Mrs. Godfrey said that the men "were too drunk to reason with" when they broke into her home.

Decide town hall New health unit Office location

The location of the new county health unit offices will be on the ground floor of the town hall. Work is already well under way on the magistrate's and court clerk's offices which take in the front section of the ground floor of the hall. Partitions are in place and appearances of modern office accommodation are taking form.

A resolution was passed at a town council meeting last Friday night to incorporate the health unit offices at the hall. Previous suggestions for purchasing the Webb home on Main St. for the health unit's use were discarded.

The cost of building the court offices, health unit offices plus a new heating unit in the building and minor facilities have been estimated in the neighborhood of $13,000.

Councillor Tom Birrell, chairman of the property committee, said that the magistrate's offices will cost approximately $2,500, heating unit $3,000, health unit offices $6,000. The estimated total cost would be $13,000 at the most, he said.

The use of the ground floor of the town hall will deprive the farmers market of a location. Council has sought accommodation for several months for the expanding municipal services in Newmarket. The decision to use the old hall for offices follows several building proposals and hours of long discussion by council. A notice of motion is still before council for a new municipal building but the additions in the old hall indicate that the building will not be discarded. The requirements of the health unit and court offices left council with no other choice.

CLERK'S OFFICE CLOSING HOURS

The Newmarket town clerk's office will close at 1 p.m. every Saturday during the months of July and August, according to a resolution by town council Monday night.

Newmarket stores Closing on Monday, Petition proposal

A proposal for closing stores in Newmarket all day Monday was presented at the last town council meeting. Councillor Charles VanZant showed council a list of names which was said to represent all but three or four merchants in town. The merchants had signed indicating that they were in favor of closing businesses all day Monday and remaining open all day Wednesday instead of holding the Wednesday half holiday.

Mayor Joseph Vale said that council would have no authority to refuse passing a by-law for store closing if there were a petition by merchants. The mayor said, however, that the signatures did not constitute a petition properly framed. It only asks if the merchants are in favor of closing, said the mayor.

"If the petition complies with the factory, shop and office act, I believe that we would be forced to pass a by-law," he said. Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette said that there is a danger in not properly soliciting a petition. "I also think that if there were one or two merchants against Monday closing, it might cause a lot of trouble," he said.

An Aurora Opinion

DOROTHY BARKER

Aurora Editor

An ad suggesting that all domestics contact a given telephone number for the purpose of forming a union to establish a minimum wage of $100 a month, recently appeared in a metropolitan daily newspaper.

What a waste of money this ad must have been. The classification of paid worker known as domestic help is as extinct as the Dodo bird. Even the promise of a hundred bucks a month and a union to protect their rights would lure few women and girls from the factories, shops and restaurants back into what was familiarly known as "service".

A union isn't the answer. A woman willing to assist with housework today commands a wage equal to any factory or store worker. It is the rating that needs a new classification. Girls hate the stigma "maid or domestic help".

There is a movement in the larger centres called "Visiting Housekeepers". Well organized, the members are screened and can be employed for a day, week or month at a time. Fair pay and reasonable hours are strict rules of employment. Besides there is a certain dignity to the title.

The need for help in the home is as acute in Aurora as any place in Canada. We honestly believe the simple phrase "Visiting Housekeeper" will overcome more prejudice against domestic service and make this type of earning more attractive to women than any union possibly could. The possibilities of an organization of this type in our locality are limitless from the standpoint of work obtainable. There must be women in this vicinity anxious to earn extra money who would greatly benefit by such a movement, to say nothing of the mothers and housewives destitute for want of a helping hand.

WILD FLOWERS, YOU SAY?
GOLDEN GLOW
says Somebody called me up the other day and said "Is this Golden Glow?" I said, rather hesitantly "I'm afraid, 'Yes', and then I added 'Should I know you?'—and guess what she wanted me to do? Write about wild flowers.
I told her that would be easy!
In fact it would be fatally easy for once I got started on such a wonderfully lovely topic, I'd be like Tennyson's Brook, "men may come and men may go, but I go on forever!" You'd never get me stopped!
I guess the only thing that would stop me would be Mr. Editor with "lack of space". She said I once had described to her the wild flowers seen from a Transcontinental train window, and she wondered why I never wrote about wild flowers. Well
I have but it really is some time ago.
I wonder if anybody recalls retelling about the wild orchids I once saw growing in a swamp
away out west past Glenville somewhere? I was there only once! My uncle took my aunt and my mother and me and we drove in a surrey (not the one with the fringe on top in that cute popular song!) I had been given a holiday from school and if I was delighted with the drive out, what can I say of my wonder and joy when I first saw that wonderful bed of Lady Slippers and the other beauties of the swamp?
Mosquitoes Too
Oh, there were mosquitoes by the thousands—and I felt sure there were snakes aplenty—but nothing mattered but those marvellous pink and white lady slippers—the wild orchid—and the yellow spotted moccasin flower, another wild orchid, and the odd-shaped huntsman's cup, the white Oswega tea and the sword ferns, the black-eyed Susans on the verge of the swamp and wild iris and other aquatic flowers
and plants.
At first I could not bear to pick them, but then I wanted to show all my friends what a Canadian swamp can do—also to take some to school for the botany class. I scored a triumph next day at school and it was worth all the mosquito bites I acquired picking them, for not even our teacher had ever seen them!
We hunted them up in our botany books and guess what the pink ones are called? "Venus Fly-Trap"—yes, those lovely flowers are cannibals! They have a sticky substance away down their "throat" which coaxes insects and then strong hairs pointed downwards prevent flies and insects from climbing out. The same with the moccasin flower.
But the huntsman's cup is also a mystery, but not in the same way. The flower rises straight up from a circle (called whorl
in the botany book) of closed pitcher-like leaves with a lip
something like the lip of a pitcher. These pitchers are full of water. The old saying is that many a huntsman's life has been saved by them, for should he be lost in the swamp he can survive
if he can find that plant, for instead of drinking swamp water
he can drink that fluid in safety.
It is also called the pitcher plant for that reason, it holds water!
Flowers By The Tracks
Well, see where this has led me—and I started off to tell about flowers seen from a transcontinental car window! One trip across was in June, and I do not think any other month could be more interesting. I sincerely need to describe our province's wild flowers, except to say that where fire has swept over you invariably find that peculiar flower we call "fire weed", a sort of reddish pink flower, resembling our garden phlox. Birds have carried seeds and wild flowers grow everywhere. Ox-eyed daisies, black-eyed Susans, el campane, golden rod, May weed, Queen Anne's lace and all the rest—to say nothing of dandelions and buttercups.
Then farther along, as you reach the prairies, you find them changing, and one of the daintiest is the miniature tiger lily—
then the myriads of wild roses—
and at last the sweet little blue bells and forget-me-nots.
Then when you reach the coast
the lovely yellow broom—oh, I can't describe it, but I only need to shut my eyes and in imagination
I am back in Victoria at Beacon
Hill Park by the Pacific Ocean, and I can see the hills and the bluffs covered with the lovely yellow broom! Then the wild primroses. Oh dear, if I don't stop Mr. Editor will have to chop this off short, so I'll leave the rest to your imagination. No, I can't end this without referring

KEEPING WATCH
750 families, 2,200
Children receive
York 'Aid' Services
Seven hundred and fifty families, involving 2,200 children received Children's Aid service from the York county society during 1949, it was reported by W. H. Bury, executive director, in his annual report on the society's activities. Five hundred and fifty unmarried mothers and their children were looked after, as well as an additional 860 children through the Children's Aid Shelter, and boarding homes.
Of the 1,444 children in foster care in 1949, 585 were in permanent adoption homes.
Describing the work of the Society, Mr. Bury said: "It is the responsibility of the society to serve the community through assisting neglected and dependent children, whether they be in their own homes, in foster homes or in adoptive homes. The attention of the society is first directed towards assisting children who may be in danger of neglect, through assisting parents to conduct themselves so that less desirable conditions will not develop, or will be corrected.
"Where no alternative to the removal of a child from his own home exists, attention is first paid to the correction of home conditions, in order that the child may be returned as quickly as possible. In the interim, the society provides care, supervision and maintenance in a foster home. Where it is apparent that the return of a child to his own home is impossible and permanent removal necessary, every effort is directed toward adoption.
Maintains Supervision
"Where, for any reason, a child's return to his own home,
or his placement in an adoption home is not possible, your society is responsible for his care, supervision and maintenance in a foster home or institution until he attains the age of 21. If, in the meantime, the child becomes self-supporting, the payment of maintenance is ended, but his supervision is continued.
"In 1948, children in foster care reached an all time high of 1,500. In 1949, despite a rapidly increasing population and a continued rise in other branches of our work, the children in foster care dropped to 1,444.
Council Foresight
"The foresight of the county council, in providing preventive and protective facilities beyond its statutory obligation, has made possible more effective service to children, mothers and families in their own homes, with the result, that fewer children were removed from their homes in 1949 than in 1948. This accomplishment is of immeasurable
social importance to the people of York, and is also desirable
from a financial point of view.
If we are not faced as formerly,
with an ever-increasing number of children to whom care must be given and for whom homes must be found, we shall direct our principle efforts toward greater improvement in the quality of our service."
F. G. Gardiner, K.C., president of the society, said that as a result of a general improvement in the organization and facilities of the society, it has been given an A grading by the province. He thanked members of the staff for
"their loyal and efficient service" and the many women's groups and auxiliaries which have contributed to the society's needs.
Two Principal Jobs
W. W. Gardhouse, treasurer, pointed out that the work of the society falls into two principal categories, the prevention of child neglect and the care of neglected and dependent children. Each time a child is admitted to the care of the society, he costs $1.22 a day, $36.60 a month, or $445.30 a year.
The gross operating cost of the society was $336,218, of which $30,000 was provided by the community chest, $79,649 from other operating income and $226,569
from tax sources in the county.
"If costs are to be reduced,"
said Mr. Gardhouse, "the causes of neglect and dependency must be removed. Such causes are deeply rooted in family and community relations. In a rapidly increasing present population of 400,000 people, these causes become aggravated and the cost of the removal of children increased."

YORK COUNTY
In Review 1615 - 1949
This is another of a series of articles on the history of York County, edited by Hugh Griggs, M.M.C., from information compiled during the past four years by W. G.
Goddard, staff member of Weston Collegiate Institute and Vocational School. York County celebrates its centenary this year.
The year 1821 saw the county of Simcoe formed,
thereby decreasing the area of the county of York.
The townships of Rench, Brock, Scott and Georgina were added to the east riding of the county of York. The townships of Chinguacousy, Caledon, Albion and Gore
of Toronto were added to the west riding.
At this time the population of the home district was approximately 12,000.
The following year, 1822, the first Presbyterian church was erected on Hospital St., now Richmond St. This same year the law society of Upper Canada was permitted to hold land.
A general board of education
for "Upper Canada" was established in 1823, by order of the British government to assume responsibility for the efficient administration of all schools in Upper Canada.
York's first public well was dug on the site of the St. Lawrence market.
On December 30 of the following year, the second parliament building was destroyed by fire.
In January, 1825, parliament met in the General hospital. The erection of a new parliament
building in Simcoe Place on Front
St. was begun.
Stage Coach Service
A stage coach service from Georgina twp. to the town of York was begun this same year
by Lewis Bapp.
The population of the township of York had increased from 1,072
in 1820 to 2,412 in 1825.
University Avenue was once divided from south to north by a high board fence. Sir John Beverly Robinson had donated the land. In 1825, College St., the roadway west of the boulevard, was laid and led to the grounds which were to be the site of King's College. The entrance to this roadway at Queen
St. where stands the monument to the soldiers of Toronto who served in the South African war,
was guarded by a gate and a gate house.
It was in 1825 that Sir John Franklin began his long trip to the west by water at Holland Landing.

The Newmarket Citizens' Band has been practising behind the Christian Baptist church these pleasant June evenings. There is a cement platform which extends behind the church and makes an ideal bandstand. The music is lovely in the soft evening air and even the pigeons show respect by huddling over on the far corner of the roof.

The band has had a busy schedule lately. Conductor Bill Grieg's evenings were taken up in early spring with the direction of the Lions Club Minstrel show music and several members of the band were in the pit for the performances. There were, of course, the regular practices to keep up as well.

Last Sunday, the band marched with the veterans and provided the music for the services at the cemetery. Then there was the concert in the evening. And June 24, they are off to Waterloo to compete in the grand festival held there annually.

There was a pleasant air of informality about the band rehearsals behind the church. The bandsmen were in shirt sleeves and Mr. Grieg in polo shirt. Billy Andrews was as redoubtable as ever behind the drum and the Spezial touch was as clear as ever in the woodwinds. They made a pleasantly informal picture to the householders hanging out their windows to watch.

We have an immense respect for Bill Grieg, a respect which was nourished with his direction of the minstrel show chorus. He made an excellent conductor for us and from what we have heard, the band has the same feeling for him.

Newmarket has become quite a music centre, supporting two bands as well as an orchestra and active church choirs. Music has become a real part of the school curriculum too. In later years, the benefits of this training should be evident in local concerts and even operatic productions. The idea is not so far fetched either. We have a drama club and it isn't really a very large step to opera.

As far as that goes, Pickering College has been presenting Gilbert and Sullivan for some years now and many local girls have taken part in the productions.

The music is not all confined to Newmarket. Aurora's reputation for choral singing is too well known to require comment. The work of the choirs directed by Mr. Iltyd Harris has brought that town a national reputation. Several contestants from this end of the county were entered in the Peel County Music Festival where Mr. Harris' choirs scored so well, and more recently, North Gwillimbury choirs had considerable success at the York County festival at Woodbridge.

Then last week, a festival was held at Mount Albert which, according to all reports, was highly successful. Oh, this county is musical, alright, particularly in the north end. Newmarket might give some thought to establishing an annual festival for the North York districts.

E. W. Fockler, son of Mr. H. Fockler, who has been attending Toronto University, passed his second year exams in geology and mineralogy.

The last annual garden party under the Presbyterian church, Mount Albert, was held on the Case brothers' lawn last Wednesday evening. The program was given by David Bros. and Mount Albert orchestra. The following evening a tea was held in the church by the ladies. The total proceeds were $250.

Three hundred took in the excursion last Wednesday under the auspices of the North York Agricultural Society from Penetang to Sans Souci. The 40-mile trip, on the steamer "City of Toronto", from Penetang to Sans Souci, was made in three and a half hours. The Newmarket Citizens' Band and the Penetang Reformatory band accompanied the party.

Mr. F. Embury, the laundryman, put in a new machine last week for ironing and finishing shirt fronts, collars and cuffs. It is run by gasoline.

The dry weather is affecting the strawberry crop and the season will be short, but prospects are good for raspberries and blackberries.

Mr. R. McCormick, Montreal, formerly of the Ontario bank, Newmarket, has been promoted to the position of accountant in the Ottawa branch of the Merchants' Bank of Halifax. Mr. McCormick married Miss Flo Playter, Newmarket.

Hon. W. P. Mulock, P.M.G., and Mr. T. H. Lennox, Aurora, were among the invited members to speak at a big picnic near Penetang on Wednesday.

During the storm which passed over last Wednesday evening, lightning struck the home of Mr. Walter Sheppard, Roach's Point, and set fire to the roof. The blaze was extinguished before it did much damage.

The Editorials:

Work of Children's Aid

Most of us are aware of the services performed by the Children's Aid Society of York county. Few of us have any idea of the scope and multiplicity of those services nor of the philosophy which influences their administration. The annual report of the society, excerpts from which are printed elsewhere in this issue, gives a welcome insight into attitude of the society and its accomplishments.

The society underwent extensive reorganization in 1946 and 1947 when both the physical equipment and the quality of the services was improved. Mr. Frederick G. Gardiner, president of the society, was able to say in his 1949 report, that as a result of this general improvement, the society was given an A grading by the provincial department of welfare.

Another source of gratification was the attitude to the York county council which in addition to its statutory liability, went several steps further in its financial support with the result that the society was able to increase its work of prevention of child neglect. The society has a dual purpose: the prevention of child neglect; the care of neglected children. The additional assistance of the county council in achieving the former purpose is evident in the following statistics: in 1948, the number of children removed from their homes was 1,500; in 1949, despite an increasing population, the number of children removed from their homes was 1,444. The difference represents the amount of service the society has been able to give in the prevention of child neglect in the homes.

The advantages of this extended service are summarized by Mr. W. H. Bury, executive director: "This accomplishment is of immeasurable social importance to the people of York and it is also desirable from a financial point of view (each child under the society's care costs $445.30 a year to maintain). If we are not faced as formerly with an ever-increasing number of children to whom care must be given and for whom homes must be found, we shall direct our principal efforts toward greater improvement in the quality of our service."

Newmarket needs expert advice

Newmarket is entering a period of accelerated expansion. Toronto's amalgamation program is one cause. There are several others: the growth of population in the north end of the county; the availability of home sites generally far more attractive for their price than those found in the city area; the location here of public services.

A fresh note is the desire of American firms to locate branches in Canada. Within the past months, there have been several enquiries about industrial locations in Newmarket from the United States. Newmarket's proximity to the large Toronto area market makes this town an attractive possibility.

Should Toronto succeed in its amalgamation program, Newmarket is the logical choice for a new county seat. The town is located in the geographical centre of the north end of the county. County courts are established here as well as offices for other public services: customs, unemployment office, V.L.A. office, registry office.

But whether Toronto is successful or not, the handwriting is on the wall for industries which normally might have located in Toronto suburbs. They face actual higher taxes if the city is successful; potentially higher taxes if the city is rebuffed again for if Toronto fails a second time to put through its amalgamation program, such is the determination of that city, that it shall surely try again and again until successful. This makes Newmarket, Aurora and other municipalities well north of new city boundaries valuable locations for new industries.

In the face of these considerations, some thought to Newmarket's future would not be amiss. Newmarket is badly cramped in its business section; it is short of central locations for public services. The development on its boundaries is proceeding without thought of integration with future development. A blueprint of the future now would help avoid difficulties ten years hence.

At the present time, an office is being established in the town hall for the magistrate and his clerk, a development which follows the establishment here of a permanent court which now sits twice a week. Plans are afoot to locate the offices of the health unit on the main floor of the hall. If this is done, it will be at the expense of the farmers' market, which will have to find a new location, a doubtful undertaking.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

From Sutton comes a letter from a club about raising worms.

This new kind of enthusiasm is related to compost farming or compost gardening. A club prize is being offered for the best "compost heap in the making."

Because of the late spring, they say, people have not got around to their compost piles so early this year. Organic gardening, they say, really makes for some miraculous results.

The earth worm, it is said, improves garden soil considerably. "A great deal of discussion was about the value of the earthworm," the letter from the club states.

"Many members showed a desire to start propagating worms."

Your diligent favorite cat reporter has just received the latest correspondence from Newmarket, England. A serious issue has been raised over 'ome in regard to rampant foliage.

The clerk of the Dullingham Parish Council, Mr. N. H. Patey, is to make inquiries to ascertain whose responsibility it is to lop trees which, it was stated at the annual meeting of the Dullingham Parish Council last week, prevented the church clock from being seen from Mr. Mission's garage and Clare Farm.

The matter was raised by Mr. Bullen who said that it was very desirable that the trees should be lopped, our correspondent says.

Unlopped trees also obscure the town clock from vision in Newmarket, Canada, from most points north.

I and uncle Colonel Wellington Fitz-Privy were fishing again in the north bush last weekend. There's nothing better than the north bush these days for black flies and mosquitoes and we are suffering from them.

The black fly after-itch is a bad disease which goes hand in hand with distemper. It promotes ill feeling and gives a person a desire to turn on friends and hiss at small children. With 43 itching spots on me I have to cut off my claws to save myself from being shredded.

I took a "mickie" of witch hazel along on our fishing adventure, always being one to take precautions, but Uncle Privy thought it was for internal therapy and consumed the whole bottle in two gulps.

"Egads," said the Colonel, "I thought it was some new kind of ersatz elixir, bottled in bond!"

In spite of a slight attack of witch hazel craze which soon overtook the Colonel, we did angle a few trout.

Breakfast one morning was concentrated on the consumption of several sweet fresh trout fried in an iron pan with two strips of bacon.

What is there better than trout fried in a pan outdoors? And the boss asks, what do you see in fishing?

Colonel Wellington Fitz-Privy said, "I should like to meet the fry pan, be it ever so large, which I could not eat all of the fried trout out of."

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture is still being accused by some farmers for the mistake of allowing ceiling prices on farm produce during the last war.

It does not take any one very smart to see the mistake after the play is made. Now we are giving every farmer in Ontario the chance to express his opinion before any action is taken. The object is to have at least one federation member in each school section.

The federation believes that the farmers are not receiving their just share of the consumer's dollar. There is around 30 to 35 percent of the people in Canada engaged in agriculture production. This group wants and expects more returns for its services, while the rest of the people expect and want lower food prices. To try and satisfy both groups is the task the federation has taken on.

To say this is a large contract is to put it mildly. We expect and will get plenty of opposition from some farmers, those that handle farm produce, and the consumer. The farmers have in the past listened to government officials and what procedure they should follow. We were encouraged to allow ceiling prices—this was to the advantage of the consumer in lower than world food prices. When the overseas contracts were renewed we were told to cut down production. This, and manipulation of pork and egg prices, had the desired results of lower pork and egg production. Now we cannot supply our domestic market and we run a chance we may have to compete with U.S.A. pork and egg products. This will be again an advantage to the consumer. It is time the farmer got wise and did his own thinking.

The federation is trying out something new. All meetings of federation are open to all farmers. In the past, committee and directors' meetings were not open to all farmers. We hope by having all meetings open and a system of sending a substitute for all committee men and directors to get more information to the farm people. Some township units are sending a summary of the minutes of the units to each school section for all farmers to read. If the farmers will not assist in forming our policies at least they should be sports enough not to kick at what is being done.

Our marketing of farm produce under bill 82 is going to give every farmer plenty to think about. We farmers must do some very straight thinking. We hear farm people all warmed up over a few cents increase in taxes on a school area but every time we ship stock over the scales at our present way of marketing we are losing dollars. We do not suggest that if a school section wants to take up school area that they should not, but it seems very foolish to put too much energy into a project that only means a very small saving when the same energy would help get better marketing and a large saving.

To get any action in a school area there must be some organization. One school section has no weight alone. There is no reason why a township federation unit should not head a school area, better roads, health unit, medical services, co-operation, or any other project the farm people in your school section wish to take up. But it is not reasonable for an individual or small group to suggest a project and expect some one else or group to work the project out. Get the facts and a workable solution and be prepared to give time and thought to putting your project over to the farmers.

RAISED CITY EYEBROWS

The editor: Your columnist, "The Top Six Inches" (by Back Concession) made this non-farm reader think! It made the text for a round table discussion by our urban-rural club. I can't imagine a nicer compliment to your writer.

You should have seen the astonished look and the elevated city eyebrows as that final paragraph was read as follows: "The farmer in the past has talked in terms of feed costs only. Now we want feed costs, wages, interest on stock, building, land, machinery. This is what we call a reasonable demand. In addition we are asking five-day weeks, two weeks with pay and a pension; all this to be added to the cost of the food people have to buy. If it is not considered unreasonable for industry and labor, why unreasonable for farmers? Cheerio!"

Somehow, the accent on that final word seemed to fall a bit flat. There were various comments, more or less apt, but I observed that no one seemed to question the "logic", particularly in the "New Look" concerning the attitude of a farmer to his production "costs". One tart comment ran thus: "Business ways are going out into the country, alright."

One speaker accented, among the "true costs" of producing the nation's food and fiber, what was happening to the soil largely as a result of the insatiable demand of the urban populations, everywhere, for "cheap" food, so-called.

He quoted from a brochure entitled "S.O.S." (Save Our Soil), as follows: (a) "Manitoba farm land has been depleted of organic matter by about 50 percent in the 70 odd years the province has been farmed. Organic matter provides the nutrient necessary to plant life, prevents erosion of soils and performs other necessary functions." (J. W. Parker, soils specialist, Manitoba Agriculture Extension Service); and (b) "The continuance of democracy in the United States might well depend on soil conservation. The wealth of a nation is not calculated on its gold dollar basis, but on its productive capacity. Agriculture is quite new in the U.S. and Canada and we don't even know if we can maintain a permanent system of agriculture" (Wilkie Collins, Jr. at Lincoln, Nebraska).

PUBLIC MUST KNOW

The editor: Nursing, like other groups, is caught up in a swiftly moving tide whose forces are advancing medical science, growing health dangers and changing human needs. It can no more escape this inexorable movement than it can stop existing altogether.

There is no single task before us greater than that of helping the majority of nurses to grasp these truths and relate them to the new objectives in nursing education, practice and legislation. By "majority" I mean the main portion of the active, registered, professional nurses, whether or not they are members of any of their professional associations. We can set up the finest of new aims and methods, yet if the majority do not comprehend their underlying reasons, we do not move ahead.

The whole trend in our ways is to place more responsibility for decisions upon the rank and file. Unless this trend is accompanied by a well thought out campaign of education, and information more harm than good will result. Many nurses are looking upon today's scene with troubled eyes. Some see in it a threat to their own right to continue in practice as higher standards of academic preparation appear to rule them out. Some feel, and I believe justifiably, a threat to their own welfare in the unregulated introduction of the non-professional worker.

Many drop their memberships because they do not approve of what is being done. The greatest number of nurses are worried over what is happening to nursing care.

I asked a Red Cross nursing representative for her impressions. Spontaneously came the reply: "I hear a very deep concern over the changes that have come in nursing care."

Are our losses in the art of nursing being compensated for by the acquisition of greater technical skills and wider knowledge? Is the present unsettled condition of nursing care, with too much indifference and unsatisfactory service, only a transitional state? Can we restore the pool of peace that is the essence of nursing when we have surmounted the major hurdles of readjustment?

"The strong profession is not the one of great numbers but one whose members are well informed."

Case
histories

By HOWARD MORTON

It is a well known fact that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. During the war when units were not readily re-placeable, most motorists learned the value of preventative maintenance.

This term applies to the routine
checks which should be applied to a vehicle in order to obtain a low operation cost per mile, and the best authority as to when these checks should be applied is certainly the manufacturer of that vehicle.

Of course in order to perform a good preventative maintenance check it is absolutely essential that good records be kept of the different operations as they are carried out.

And that is where our case history records come into the picture. For each customer who favors us with his vehicle maintenance we open a case history
on that particular vehicle.

On it we record the vital information regarding the car
or truck and as each service is performed it is recorded in this case history.
By referring to manufacturers'

specifications and constantly checking the customers' mileage
we are able to advise the proper maintenance operation as it comes due.

For example, many drivers do not realize that the lubrication of front wheel bearings is not part of the standard lube job.
By the use of our case history card we are able to advise the customer when that very important service operation should be performed and of course everyone will understand how important front wheel lubrication is to safety.

Here at Morton Brothers,
your local Pontiac Buick
dealers, we have a complete record of each service operation performed with information as to date and mileage.
Just a small item but a very important one, just another example of our effort to make our service a little better.

Many people have been kind enough to comment on this weekly article. Your remarks are encouraging and I have a little remembrance for those who mention they have read my effort.

Summer is time for salads

The name "salad" is said to be the result of mispronunciation. The original "sallet" became "salett" and finally "salad". Originally, green leaves and raw vegetables which were eaten with salt were the first salads. Today a salad may be made from raw or cooked foods, it may be hot or cold and light and refreshing or substantial. The dressings have gone far from the simple salt. Green leaves are still an integral part of most salads and of these, lettuce is so universally used that in some locations it is called "salad plant".

A salad for luncheon or supper is perfect in summer time. The addition of hard-cooked eggs, cheese, meat, chicken or fish to the crisp green vegetables makes a meal that is both refreshing and satisfying.

Fresh vegetables and fruits are now available throughout the year but while the gardens and orchards are producing it pays to serve generous quantities of them.

NIPPY MOULDED SALAD

- 1 tsp. gelatine
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 tsp. dry mustard
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 3 eggs

1 cup whipping cream

Soak gelatine in 1/2 cup cold water for 5 minutes. Bring vinegar and remaining 1/2 cup water to boiling point. Mix sugar, mustard and salt and add to slightly beaten eggs. Gradually add hot vinegar to egg mixture and cook slowly, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove from heat, add soaked gelatine and stir until dissolved. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Whip cream until quite thick, but not stiff; fold into gelatine mixture. Pour into moulds which have been rinsed with cold water and chill until firm. Serve on lettuce with cold meat, salmon, devilled eggs, cabbage or mixed vegetable salad. Yield: 8 individual moulds (four cups).

SUPPER SALAD

- 2 cups diced cooked meat
- 4 tomatoes, coarsely chopped
- 1 1/2 cups chopped green onion
- 2 tbsp. chopped parsley

Salad dressing

Mix the meat and vegetables with sufficient salad dressing to moisten. Serve at once on crisp lettuce. Yield: six servings.

HOT STRING-BEAN SALAD BOWL

- 1 1/2 lbs. string beans, cut in 1-inch pieces (4 cups cooked)
- 1 cup diced bologna or canned luncheon meat (1/2 lbs.)
- 2 tbsp. chopped pickle
- 2 tbsp. chopped onion
- 1 tsp. cider vinegar
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. sugar
- 1 tsp. dry mustard
- 4 hot hard-cooked eggs, sliced

Cook beans in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain. Combine other ingredients, except eggs, in salad bowl. Add hot beans. Mix well. Garnish with sliced hard-cooked eggs. Yield: four servings.

YOUNG HOPEFULS BY DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Sensitive about her size

Ruth, twelve years old, is sensitive about her size, though she only recently admitted why she didn't like playing with other young people of her own age.

For the past two years, Ruth has been more sociable with adults and very young children than she has with young people in her own age group. True, circumstances have necessitated her association with those in her age group. However, she seems bored with these young people. Recently, the reason came to light.

Ruth's age group was having a play. At first the idea appealed to Ruth and she said she would take part in it. Then, when it came time to dress for the occasion, Ruth rebelled. Her rebellion took the form of crying. No one knew what was troubling her. Finally, rather than discard the play, it was decided that the teacher should dress as the grandmother — because, except for Ruth, there was no other suitable girl in the class.

The suggestion of using the teacher for the part, for which she had been chosen, struck a congenial note with Ruth. The teacher was ready to dress in the outfit provided for Ruth when Ruth stopped her crying and said she would like to be grandmother. Her explanation was that she thought she was too big to be in a play with the others, who were all smaller than she—but the teacher was bigger than she so she thought she would make a better grandmother than the teacher.

Until this little event, no one had realized why Ruth wasn't sociable with those in her age group. She felt "too big" for them because she had matured beyond her years — physically speaking.

Frequently, an over-sized child does suffer embarrassment when in company with his own age group. Though in a few years he may be regular for his age—the intervening years may cause personality irregularities that persist long after the cause ceases to exist.

SISTER HOSTESS AT BRIDAL SHOWER

Miss Eva Crowder was entertained at a bridal shower, in her honor, at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Nora Crowder.

Over the door was hung a white wedding bell with streamers, while large baskets of tulips and lilacs were placed throughout the rooms adding a beautiful touch of color and lovely aroma.

The guest of honor sat under an umbrella beautifully decorated in pink and white. The matching shower basket was filled to overflowing with gifts from 50 invited guests. After the gifts were opened, a very delicious lunch was served by the hostess and her helpers.

Miss Betty Oliver read a poem entitled "How Mom Met Dad".

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

OVER ALL - THE RADIANT CROSS

As we neared the city on the evening of Sunday, June 11, we felt that we were units in a mighty throng all intent on reaching the Maple Leaf Gardens to join in the 25th celebration of the coming into being of the United Church of Canada.

From every direction in cars, buses, station wagons and on foot, people were converging on a common centre and gradually being absorbed into their places. Our places were in the green section and we found ourselves among friends, Mr. and Mrs. Graham whom we had accompanied, were in the blues, and Miss Graham was in the reds, so we were widely scattered but when once the beauty of the scene gripped us, we had eyes for nothing else and ears only for the Toronto symphony orchestra which regaled our ears and delighted our eyes.

And over the flower-banked, silver-edged crimson-carpeted dais towered the radiant symbol of our faith—the shining cross or rather crosses—for there were three of them.

It was a lovely sight to see the various choirs, like vari-colored streams, flow along the various aisles, to find their places. The great throng on the floor of the gardens looked like an enormous hooked rug. While the rising tiers of people around, in their well defined divisions, looked like boxes of bon-bons. You can see by the effect we got that we were well up in height.

It was a joy to listen to the beautiful service—to join in the general confession and responsive readings and to hear around one the reverent repeating of the Lord's Prayer. How the hymns rolled out—what a feeling of the mighty power of our common faith comes to us when the hymns we have known and loved since we learned them at our mother's knee roll around us from 15,000 voices, while underneath, sonorous, reverberant and gloriously tuneful, the orchestra sustained and uplifted.

The service was conducted by the Very Rev. George Pidgeon, D.D., and his voice strikes an affectionate chord in most of our hearts and the sermon was preached by the Right Rev. Willard Brewster, D.D. Dr. Brewster spoke of the need in this day of chaotic thinking, loose ideals and laxity of moral standard, of having faith which can withstand fightings within and fears without. Only on the rock of faith can the United church continue to grow and expand and give to its members a leadership which will grow with the years!

Under the United church, like great foundation stones, are the bulwarks on which the three denominations which it combines, rested, making a sure fortress from which the arrows of faith can fly. After the sermon, one soared on wings of song as the Mendelssohn choir conducted by Sir Ernest MacMillan, who also conducted the orchestra, gave us its treasures. The beauty and purity of tone, the wonderful crescendos and diminuendos, the wealth of color and expression all which make the Mendelssohn choir unique and something of which Canada can be justly proud. The thousand voiced choir under the same skillful leadership gave a splendid account of itself and when the Hallelujah Chorus rang out, even if tradition had not demanded it, I think it would have brought us all to our feet!

It was a fitting end to an evening—solemn, inspiring, colorful and unforgettable.

Newmarket V.L.A. hosts to experts

The Newmarket office of the Veterans' Land Act was host last week to V.L.A. and agriculture officials in a demonstration at the farm of M. L. Newroth, Sharon. The demonstration, first of its kind in the dominion, included a complete analysis of the farm and discussions of methods to be used to improve its productivity. The program was designed to assist fieldmen to meet with similar problems in their work of assisting veterans settled on farms under the V.L.A. Lev Tompkins, Newmarket, development supervisor for this area, was in charge of the arrangements.

Present were H. R. Hare, superintendent of farm development, V.L.A., Ottawa; G. L. Armstrong, district superintendent, Eastern Ontario V.L.A.; H. V. Western, farm management branch, V.L.A.; W. M. Cockburn, agricultural representative; E. R. Donaldson, regional supervisor, Newmarket, and his field staff; Russell Gomme, district horticulturist, V.L.A.; J. Elliott, soils branch, O.A.C., Guelph.

Following a briefing about the farm and a discussion of the purposes of the demonstration, led by Mr. Hare, the party went to the farm where there was on-the-spot discussions about soil and fertilizers, and an inspection of buildings and livestock. Lunch was served by members of the Sharon Women's Institute.

Following luncheon, the party returned to the agricultural offices where discussion was led by

Mr. Hare and Mr. Cockburn. Out of the discussion, recommendations for farm improvement were drawn up and submitted for Mr. Newroth's consideration.

The demonstration arose from the V.L.A.'s intention to assist veterans settled on farms with the development of a planned farm program which includes soil conservation and soil management through analysis, soil preparation, livestock care and feeding, crop rotation and pasture improvement, drainage and landscaping.

Haskett's HASH

BY GEORGE HASKETT

Newmarket Sports Editor

Who said sports don't mix? Softball scores over last week had a cricket favor. Score keeper busier than village fire brigade at a four-alarm blaze. Hits, runs and errors posted in several contests remind us of the serial on our gas buggy. Tannery-Optimists hit the jack-pot with 42 runs, and fans enjoyed it.

Optimists ran themselves dizzy chasing over maybe four, five or six runs per frame. Tanners laid down their finishing paws long enough to catch up. That's the way it went down to the wire, Optimists finally crawled home the winners 22-20. Another free-wheeler like that mer—two times around vogue of batting—post the scores on a one for two basis. Junior gals got in on high-scoring hi-jinks parading 34 runs. Their season opened at home Tuesday. Lost 22-12 decision. Senior girls had 28-2 win over Stranman away.

Town league data: John Shedlowick, Specialty fliker, has town teams buzzing. His blazing fast ball is taking heavy toll, averaging eight to ten strikeouts per. Pete Neufeld just whistles when his Specialty hopefuls get into difficulty and "the speed ball king" moves 'em down.

Jack Hamilton, Optimists first sacker—a Ted Williams no less—lurched the cover off the ball against Tanners, two homers, double and two singles. Bell boys not in action yet. Go at it twice this week. Hear they may be a surprise.

Town Atomies or Morrison's men had a record shut-out Friday against Tanners, 23-0, when the rain eased Barney Revell's men out in three innings. No telling where it might have ended. Four town swingers got three licks in big 16 run second frame. Specialty on top with two wins. Neufeld's lads meet Pine Orchard in exhibition game and Towners up against Vandorf. Should give us an idea of relative strength of Simcoe teams against Town Leaguers.

They did it. Just talk last year but this year Dewey Kuhns and willing workers circle at Hoffman's dug right in and had the opening of their new softball diamond Wednesday. Will make a fine addition to sites for softball locally. "Citizen" Kuhns indicates other teams can use it anytime Hoffman teams aren't scheduled. Diamond looked fast with its hard packed sod infield, base lines cut out in sandy loam and well set-up back-stop. Town league idea of spreading games around should go well. Big crowd, largest of season, at Hoffman opener. Fair grounds needs another week to complete. Then part of town league contests go there. That gives "the amateurs" three sites on which to do battle. Did seem to notice through Wednesday's battle smoke new faces ringed around the ball diamond that hadn't been there for a number of years.

Like we said, a big week coming up before holidays. Tonight senior gals off to Orillia. Town leaguers, Friday, Monday and Wednesday. Then vacation. Tuesday Reg Ball and Geo. Watt have home engagement at the S.S. for our junior lasses. Out in the Simcoe circuit Pine Orchard and Willow Beach are pounding along neck and neck. Important engagement among themselves this week.

Specialty fast-balls Hoffman on new diamond

Specialty softballers are quite satisfied with the job the Hoffman men did on their new diamond, as the two teams opened it last Wednesday and Specialty defeated Hoffman's 9-4. The new diamond and official opening brought out the largest crowd of the season.

Hoffman's put two runs in the kitty to start on Al Bryson's triple into right field and Grant Blight's single. They loaded the sacks in the fourth to tie a four-run second frame by the Cabinet Makers. Then manager Pete Neufeld whiffed eight and wasn't scored on. Specialty made two big splashes to wrest the game from the Pressmen, four in the second and snapped ahead in the fourth with five and stayed put.

"Dint" Barber and Bruce Andrews supplied the scorekeeper with two hits each for the Specialty. Al Bryson produced a triple and single to lead Hoffman's.

Bob Benville opposed Barney Bishop on the Specialty mound to start, going out in the seventh in favor of Bob Murray.

SAVED BY THE RAIN

Rain came along Friday evening in time to save the Davis Leather softball crew some embarrassing questions the next day. The Town Atomies had 'em over a barrel in a scheduled town league fixture, 23-0, when the rains came in the third to wash out the contest. Town scored in every frame but a record shattering 16 runs in the second really holed the Tanners. The game will be replayed later in the season.

AURORA TOWN SOFTBALL

Organization meeting of the Aurora Town Softball League is scheduled for Monday, June 26. At a preliminary meeting it was found four teams are likely to enter: Sisman's, Hart's, Collis Leather and Merchants. At the Monday meeting, election of officers will be held and a schedule drawn up.

Specialty wins Vets' cup Meets Davis in finals

Despite coolish weather, the Vets Softball Tournament went on as scheduled Saturday. Pete Neufeld's Specialty crew carted home the Vets trophy. Specialty disposed of all their opposition along the trail without too much difficulty. With the Bell Telephone unable to compete, Hoffman's got a bye.

Davis Leather and Optimists opened up with a ding dong battle to get the tournament underway. Two extra frames were needed before Tanners wrapped it up with five in the 7th for a 16-11 win. Office Specialty played against Town "Atomies". John Shedlowick held Town hitters to two hits - by Alvie McKnight and Ted Taylor. Specialty won 9-2.

Hoffman's drew Specialty in the semi-final set. Again John Shedlowick fast-balled Hoffman's to death, winning 14-7. Bob Murray and Vic Langford shared the Hoffman mound.

The finals brought old rivals together for the first time, Office Specialty and Davis Leather. Pete Neufeld's gang won 18-10 going away. The Tanners had more luck against Shedlowick, nipping him for seven hits. Geo. Newton started for the leather workers, gave away to Bill Bone who turned the burden over to Bill Haskett. Haskett slow-balled the cabinet makers to distraction for three frames before he and his support melted before an eight-run Specialty avalanche that sewed up the ball game.

Aurora Pee-Wees reach 'Little Series' finals

Aurora sent a pee-wee baseball team along to the Little World Series at Weston's Gibson Park last Saturday. In round one, Aurora knocked off East York by a 10-3 margin. Next opposition was Lindsay and again Aurora came through on the long end of a 13-5 count. They met Mount Dennis in the finals and up until the last frame were going along on all cylinders. It was a four all deadlock, then the roof caved in and Mount Dennis laddies pushed over 17 runs to take the game 21-4 and the championship.

Aurora: Bruce McCrac, Bill Jans and Bert Loveless p and 1b, Dave Fines 2b, Bob Hickson ss, Don Timbers 3b, outfield Wayne Spence, Paul Babcock, Roy Preston, Dennis Mills.

FAIR GROUNDS DIAMOND

The Optimist club is moving right along on the ball diamond at the fair grounds. A number of the members will be out this week raking and levelling and it is hoped to have the diamond rolled this week or early next. President Joe Dales indicates no attempt will be made to sow grass seed on the diamond this year but it will be done next spring. The Optimists plan their home games in the town league at the fair grounds as soon as it is ready. The four-team bantam loop they propose will play there too.

'The Kid' pitches gals To 11-4 Orillia win

"The Kid" has done it again. Last Thursday to the delight of a large following, Arlene Moore hog-tied Orillia on six hits. Our gals backed up this kind of pitching with a well hung perfect performance and banged out a good solid 13 base hits to pound out an 11-4 win, their fourth straight. Arlene opposed Edith "Sammy" Dow on the Orillia mound. "The Kid" seemed to be in for trouble to start, let one go one a little too good and Bab Wilshire corked it for four bases and Orillia had a three-run jump. This state of affairs didn't hold too long though. Phyl McInnis scored in the first on Lois Manning's single. Three successive singles in the third made it 3-2 as Lois Manning, Jackie Moore and Paul in Boivar bunched safeties. Terry Barnes homered to make it 4-2. That's as far as Orillia could stretch its prosperity. Edith Dow dropped an easy pop-up in the fourth and our gals took command 5-4 with a three-run surge and increased it another two notches in the fifth. This brought Irene Patterson in to do the pitching for the visitors. Edna McGrath greeted her with a base-empty four baser and singles by Lois Manning, Jackie Moore, Mary Osborne and Arlene Moore and a walk to Mona Dean sent four runs home and wrapped up the game 11-4.

Defeat Valleys 8-4

Newmarket ladies ran their victory skunk in the Barrie and District softball league to five, defeating Barrie Valleys 8-4 Monday. They played at home Monday, usually it's Thursday, and this time relied on left-hander Anne Mulder to bring the victory home.

A big sixth frame with three runs provided the margin for the locals' victory. Mona Dean tied into one of Dot Miller's too good pitches for three bases. Phyl McInnis sent her mate home with a dribbler down third that wasn't fielded until too late. Lois Blight came up with her second hit, a solid sock into left field for an RBI. Lois Manning rifled a pip of a liner into right centre for three bases and built up the count to three runs and an 8-4 margin. Lois was out at the plate as the ball came in from the outfield in a dead-heat.

Anne Mulder, searching for her first win, looked in for a spot of trouble as Pearl Copeland started the seventh away with a hit. Dot Miller was on base on an infield error. Lois Blight came to the rescue with a couple of catches around short and she struck out Marg Longhurst for the third and final out. Hits were evenly divided, ten each. The Courtney-VanZant gals found themselves a ball player in Pauline Boivar—later earned an assist from right field. Four of our gals led in the batting, Phyl McInnis, Lois Blight, Mona Dean and Anne Mulder with two each. Outfield and infield fielded like champs with a special halo to Phyl McInnis for work around the keystone sack. Three of visitors found left-hand pitching to their liking. That was Marg Longhurst, Robin Lennox and Pearl Copeland, all registering in with two hits.

Pitchers duel to 2-2 In Aurora vs. 'Staff

Aurora and Langstaff battled through nine innings to a two all deadlock Tuesday. It was a pitcher's duel. Bill Bowen, Langstaff whiz-bang, whiffed 18 Aurora's, Andy O'Neill, 14 Langstaffers.

Ron Simmons tied into a three bagger for Aurora but died at third. Jim Hughes, visiting outfielder, slammed one of longest hits seen in Aurora Town Park in many a year in the eighth and could have meant the ball game. Hughes neglected to touch third on his run around and was called out.

Langstaff opened the scoring with a single tally in the second. Aurora erased this in the third. Langstaff again forged ahead with a run in the eighth. Then in the ninth, Tod Mosier got a life when Sonny Charles, Langstaff short-stopper, bobbled his roller and threw wild to first. When the dust had settled Tod was resting at the three quarter pole. Bruce McMillan sent up a lofty infield hoist. Langstaff catcher and first sacker in their anxiety to put it away and the third out by the way crashed together and Tod was home free with the tying run.

ORCHARD AT TOP ON WIN FROM BEACH

Our boys are out front in the battle cry from Pine Orchard. Pine Orchard got a leg to the top by socking Willow Beach 9-6. Harry Brammer's grand slammer for four runs started the Ivan Eves-Ah Book men on the way to a juicy eight-run second innings. Dot Menar's Beanchers worked their toe into the door with three each in the fifth and seventh but that's all.

Cec McNeill matched his pitching job with a four-hit performance. Ted Anderson dug in at the plate for two doubles. Don Cameron waited out four free strolling tickets. Noel Ash with three hits, Bill Dike with two doubles and "Chick" Shropshire with a three bagger stood along side of Harry Brammer in the hit spotlight.

Willow Beach won its home opener last week, counting six times in the first two frames against Queensville to bring down a 6-4 verdict. Queensville put up an amazing scrap, closing in on the beach with single runs in sixth and seventh to pull within two of a tie. Cec McNeill over Bruce Pegg in the mound duel. McNeill boosted his own stake with three safeties. The three Don's, Cameron, Cooper and Anderson, led the hit department with two each. Bill Burkholder and Doug Smith with three, Bob English and Bruce Lockie clubbing two furnished Queensville power at the plate.

Vandorf smothered Queensville 15-3 Monday to kick the visitors farther down the basement stairs. Vandorfers all stepped in for their quota of base hits. Long extra base blows were contributed by Lloyd Preston with two triples, Harry Lavender with one three-bagger, "Cab" and Jim Preston socking solidly. Bob English and Bill Burkholder had a lot of success with the Queensville bat work. Queensville never had a look in after Vandorf planted a big juicy eight runs in the second. Queensville's three came in the third. Jim Preston and Harold Botham spaced out just right on Vandorf firing line.

NOTHING NEW ON FLOOR There is nothing new to report on the town's application for permission to dehydrate the cost of installing a concrete floor in the arena. At last report, department of municipal affairs had granted approval but as yet final approval hasn't come through from the Ontario municipal board. Town clerk Wesley Brooks is expecting advice on the subject before the week is out.

ELLISON'S HIT GIVES NUGGETS 'BRIDGE WIN

Schomberg "Nuggets" salted away another home win Tuesday under the lights, defeating Woodbridge 8-5 in a North York softball league game. Ken Ellison matched his pitching ability with a good batting eye to bring the game into the win column. Woodbridge, trailing by a run in the eighth, score 6-5, was threatening to close the gap completely. Don Marchant doubled and Ken Ellison promptly put the game in the bag with a towering home run smash.

Schomberg bunched its runs in three innings. It was three in the first and sixth, then the final two produced by Ellison's homer. Phil Stewart was the big gun in the Schomberg sixth with the bases loaded. Stewart came in as pinch-hitter and dumped a solid double into right field that chased his three mates home.

Along with Ellison and Stewart, Don and Doug Marchant, Barney McCabe and Walt Thompson supplied the power hitting. Aurora is the visitor at Schomberg park tonight.

Schomberg: Doug Marchant c, Ellison p, Thompson 1b, Don Marchant 2b, Breckon ss, Dale 3b, Maynard, Rainey, McCabe, Stewart, outfield.

Orchids to Billy Mundell and Tom Dickson of the Aurora Recreation directive who sponsored an Aurora pee-wee baseball team in the Little World Series played at Gibson Park, Mount Dennis, last Saturday. A hastily assembled Aurora team, none older than 12 years, without uniforms or fanfare, ambled off to meet the flashily longer-trained nines from East York, Lindsay, Bowmanville, and Mount Dennis.

Aurora belted out East York 10-3 in the first round with Cannonball Jans on the mound. In the next series they defeated Red Mitchell's Lindsay youngsters 13-8 with Chuck Loveless on the hilltop, Jans relieving him in the fourth. The finals went to Mount Dennis 21-4 who had plenty of hurling strength and reserves. It was a battle until the fatal fifth when the homesters scored 17 times to break up a tie game.

The point is not so much in either the winning or losing but that Aurora kids can hold their own with the bigger centres, and have had a chance to do so. We'd like to name all the kids for mention, but we haven't the line-up, but we do know a special word is due catcher Bruce McRae who caught all three games. Baseball in these parts is well assured for the future with such doughty exponents of the game among the teen-agers.

On the subject of teen-agers with all the publicity of drinking, and rowdiness you'd think North York Township was a pretty rough, tough place and the boys and gals were pretty much neglected. Last night we visited several of the playgrounds, one at Armour Heights, the other at Mitchell Field and we saw pee-wee, junior, junior gals, and midgets in action, and after looking over the situation we're prepared to say that the township has as good a sports program as anywhere in Ontario and well looked after too.

The kids we saw were mighty fine youngsters and it's just too bad that a few can sully the name of the many. You can of course do all you like about it, but it all comes back to home training and more than ever to parental neglect of responsibilities. Somebody has rightly defined juvenile delinquency as:
